

Wh Questions :

These are the wh-forms and we use them to make open or wh questions :

what, when, where, which, who, whom, whose , why , how , they are all used to elicit particular kinds of information.

1-You use what when you are asking for information about something.

2-You use when to ask about the time that something happened or will happen.

3-You use where to ask questions about place or position.

4-You use which when you are asking for information about one of a limited number of things. You use who or whom when you are asking about someone's identity.

5-You use whose to ask about possession. You use why to ask for a reason.

6- You use how to ask about the way in which something is done.

Wh-form	Verb	+	Answer
What	is	your name?	My name is Lynne.
When	is	the party?	The party is on Tuesday.
Where	are	you from?	I'm from England.
Which	is	your car?	The red car is mine.
Who	are	you?	I'm Lynne.
Whose	is	this web site?	It's mine.
Why	is	this web site here?	Because it is!
How	are	you?	I'm fine thanks..

Whom can only be used to elicit information about the object of the sentence.

Although using whom would be grammatically correct, we normally use who because it doesn't sound so formal. For example:- "Whom did you see?" would normally be expressed as "Who did you see?"
